Pickets, sit-ins
are considered
leaders say

Members of the Indianapolis Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said Thursday that they would ponder plans for "direct action" if Robert Graves, president of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board, did not meet with them before Saturday to answer discrimination charges against his board.

CORE members John Terrain and Michael Gunason said that plans for possible sit-ins and pickets would be discussed during the militant organization's meeting, scheduled for Saturday.

Graves failed to appear during a press conference Tuesday to which he was invited by CORE to restate his position and views on the open housing proposal, currently before the City Council. Graves has vigorously denounced the proposal.

CORE, in the invitation to Graves, said it would meet with him to negotiate the following issues:

"(1) Immediate integration of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board by including Negro realtors as members, and (2) altering the rules of good practice of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board to require your members to show homes or apartments to any willing buyer will have a chance to find a willing seller."

Officials also said that petitions are being circulated in support of the bill, and that a mass meeting was being planned in cooperation with the NAACP and the Indianapolis Social Action Council to be held sometime before July 6, when a vote on the measure is scheduled.

The organization also charged that real estate board has no real interest in property rights, has no concern about the city's housing problem, and is only interested in "profit rights."

Tuesday's conference was held in front of the Riley Center apartments, 600 block of North Alabama. Members said they chose that site as a "symbol" that apartment developments of that type are not the answer to Indianapolis' housing problem.

Gunason said that the development was extremely high priced and are not available to Negroes because of this. He said that low or medium priced housing and apartments would be the answer to the bad housing situation.

Toriano charged that Graves and his organization was "out to make money" and that his group was "frightening" people into opposing the ordinance.

MISS ANN FAY BROWN
Crispus Attucks High School and Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., honor graduate, Miss Ann Fay Brown, will teach chemistry for two years in Monrovia, Liberia.

Miss Brown's expenses will be financed by a grant presented by Knox College. She will leave July 12 for the African country.

While at Knox, Miss Brown was elected to the social board her freshman year. She was a member and chairman for two years of the honorary College Women's Council. Miss Brown was also affiliated with the mortar board of which she was treasurer, and the German Club.

The pretty Miss Brown was elected queen of the Knox College military ball. As honorary colonel, she received a symbolic saber from last year's honorary colonel, Karren Hummel.

A "hidden" talent that the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority member possesses is singing, which her family reported she did at a gathering the night before baccalaureate services to the satisfaction of a large crowd of students and guests.

Attending the Illinois commencement rites were her mother, Mrs. Cora Hayden, 717 W. 32nd; her sisters, Mrs. April Joyce Seary and daughter, Shirley Ann, and Miss Ramona Hayden, and an aunt, Mrs. Colonger Johnson of Los Angeles.

CLEVELAND (ANP) — It was just like one of those familiar chases in the Westerns on television at the Belcher's home here last week.

George Belcher, 43, and Roosevelt, 15, traded shots using with live ammunition, and Roosevelt won.

The drama began when Belcher was arguing with his wife, Mary, 38, and threatened to shoot her. Roosevelt, hearing the threat, got another pistol and dared his father to shoot. When Belcher whirled upon his son, the youth took flight running down the street with gun in hand, and his father right after him. Belcher fired four times, but missed. The boy stopped his flight long enough to turn and fire two shots at his father. One hit Belcher in the left side, and the other in the left leg.

Belcher is now recuperating from his brush with his mother, protector son, and Roosevelt has been released in custody of his mother pending court ruling on the affair.

True to the prediction of a long, restless and bloody summer, made earlier this year by noted civil rights leader Martin Luther King, young, militant Negroes currently involved in the struggle for full equality avowed their pledge this week as additional outbreaks of racial violence were recorded in Alabama and Florida.

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., Negroes defied an edit by city officials barring demonstrations and attempted to march into the downtown area.

Turned back by helmeted, heavily-armed police officers, the demonstrators hurling taunts, grudgingly retreated and took refuge in the First African Baptist Church.

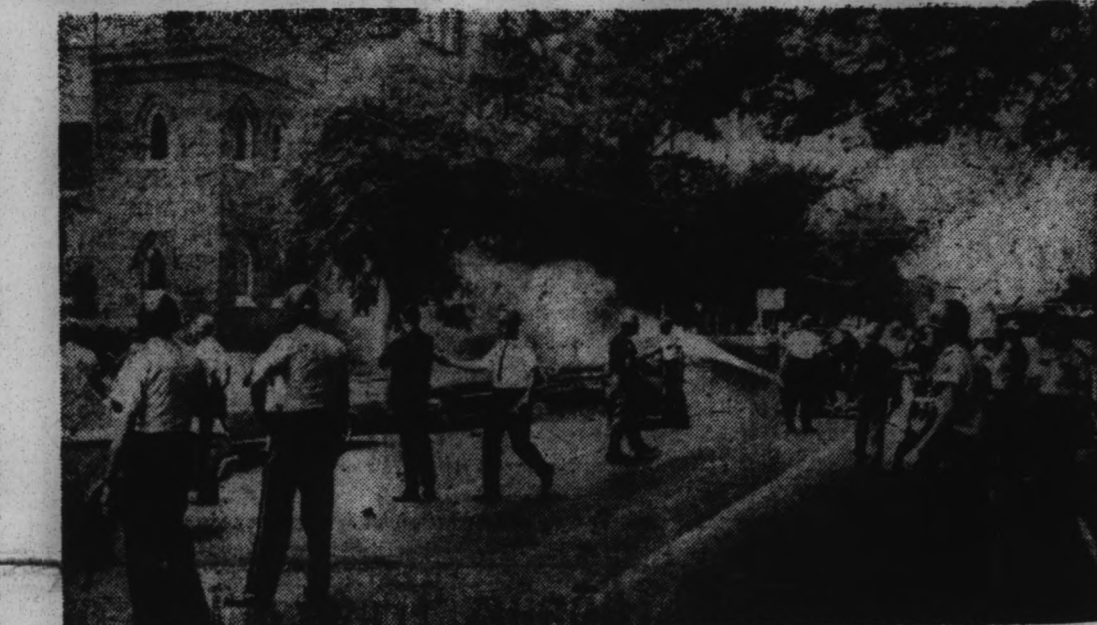

Twice more the 500 demonstrators tried to get back into the street. On both occasions the riot trained police officers, brandishing clubs and electric cattle prods shoved them back into the church the ensuing melee 33 persons, including one white policeman, was injured.

Police shot volleys of tear gas and burst from high-pressure water hoses into the church and the enraged Negroes began hurling rocks, bottles and furniture at their tormentors.

During the ensuing melee, 33 persons, including one white policeman, were injured in this university town, about 50 miles southwest of Birmingham.

None of the injured were hurt seriously.

ALABAMA, 1964. This scene resembles violence which erupted in 1963 when Negroes attempted to demonstrate for civil rights. Here firemen are shown directing a stream of water into a Tuscaloosa, Ala., Negro church during violence Tuesday in which more than 30 persons were injured. The flare-up started when Negroes again attempted to demonstrate for equal rights.

Cassius X called "Clown" after insulting Nigerians

LAGOS, Nigeria (ANP)—a courtesy call. The visit turned out to be anything but courteous for Clay.

The group was welcomed by Walter K. Scott, the deputy chief of mission, and they discussed Clay's visit to Lagos, where he had come after concluding a similar visit to Ghana.

The hassle started as a result of Clay's faux pas. When Scott remarked that he was sorry to hear that Clay was cutting short his stay in Nigeria to fly to Cairo (Egypt), Cassius said that he, too, regretted it, but that he had been delayed in Ghana before flying here.

Then came the costly slip of the lip, as Clay added: "Besides, they've (the Egyptians) got big things lined up for me in Cairo. Nasser wants to see me and they laid on big doings for me two months ago. It's more important than Nigeria."

Naturally, Bassey and the other Nigerian sports council officials were alarmed at Clay's remark.

GOP picks Ristine and Bontrager for governor, U.S. Senate post

The Republican State Convention, in session here Tuesday of this week, in keeping with predictions of numerous party veterans nominated Lieut. Gov. Richard O. Ristine for governor and State Senator D. Russell Bontrager for U.S. Senator.

Generalship on the convention floor for Ristine by former Lt. Gov. Richard T. James and for Bontrager by Paul Green, Boone County GOP chairman culminated many months of shrewd campaigning.

Ristine, a Crawfordsville lawyer, it is said, began his race for governor in 1961 as soon as he took office as lieutenant governor. Bontrager, of Elkhart, has been the GOP floor leader in the State Senate. He lost the senatorial bid to former Gov. Harold W. Handley in 1958.

Both Ristine and Bontrager were victors on the third ballot, in one of the most lively GOP state conventions of all times. Ristine downed six rivals, in what has been termed the major contest for the gubernatorial nomination.

Ristine led on two previous ballots and the final count, third ballot was: Ristine, 1,212; Robert E. Hughes (State Treasurer), Greenwood, 599; G. Richard Ellis, Kokomo (former State Senator), 70; Robert E. Gates, Columbus City, 29; Congressman William G. Bray, Martinsville, 266; Charles O. Hendricks, Speed (Secretary of State 15. State Sen. Earl Landgrebe received 1 vote.

Judge denies Durham's plea for lower bond

A flat denial of ex-policeman Jacques Durham's request for bond reduction was issued Friday by Judge Saul I. Rabb. Rabb's decision came during a hearing in Criminal Court, Division 2.

This means that the oft-arrested Westside club owner, held under an unusually high bond of $150,000 in the wounding of Patrolman Lowell Dodson, will probably remain in Marion County Jail until his trial.

Meanwhile, the victim of the shooting, 37-year-old Dodson was released last Thursday from General Hospital. Despite testimony by Dr. Russell W. Newcomb that Dodson would probably "pull through", Rabb would not lower the bond.

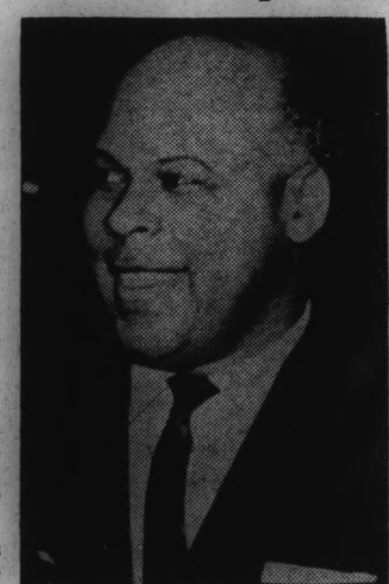

Durham's high bond came at the request of Prosecutor Noble R. Percy and his chief trial deputy, Leroy K. New. They said that at first they feared Dodson would die as a result of the shooting.

Defense Attorney James Manahan announced that he intends to seek recourse in the state's supreme court.

The altercation occurred May 22 in front of Durham's Missile Lounge, 518 N. West, and involved Dodson, and his companion, James Harris, and several patrons from the Lounge as well as Durham.

The accused man continued his contention of self-defense. He also claimed that he had been instructed by police captains Henry Wolff and Anthony Watkins to ward off "muggers" with shooting if necessary but the two cops denied the statement during testimony.

Atty. Willard Ransom cited by alma mater

ATTY. WILLARD B. RANSOM ... cited by alma mater

Atty. Willard B. Ransom, nationally known businessman and community civil rights leader, has been named first recipient of Talladega (Ala.) College's alumni distinguished service award.

Ransom, a 1936 graduate of the Southern institution, received the award during the college's 88th commencement exercises citing him for his "adventurous contributions to human dignity and freedom to community and state, and to education through alma mater loyal alumni service."

General manager of the world famous Mmc. C. J. Walker Manufacturing Co., Atty. Ransom has a long and consistent record of fighting for civil rights and for the advancement of Negro people. He served five years as Indiana State NAACP president.

Among his past achievements is the drafting of the Indiana Ant-Segregated Schools for which the Indiana State Conference of NAACP Branches received a national award in getting the law passed.

The noted attorney has helped draft and lobby for the passage of a stronger Indiana Civil Rights and FEPC Law and is presently aiding efforts to pass an Open Housing Ordinance in Indianapolis as a member of the drafting and lobbying committee representing the NAACP.

In fraternal affairs, Atty. Ransom served as basileus of Gamma Psi Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity while at Talladega and has served as basileus of Zeta Phi Chapter here in Indianapolis. In 1958, he was named Zeta Phi "Man of the Year."

Woman gets 20 days in fight with police

Arrested during a brawl with policemen, a 23-year-old woman was found guilty of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest Thursday morning in Municipal Court 6 and was fined a total of $100 and cost and sentenced to 20 days in jail.

Miss Dorothy Bertram, 2361 N. Alabama, appealed the conviction and was released on $500 appeal bonds.

She was fined $50 and cost and sentenced to 10 days on each of the two counts.

Miss Bertram was arrested Wednesday afternoon along with two young Negro girls following a scuffle with white police officers in which three other teenage girls escaped. One officer lost his service revolver to one of the girls during the melee.

According to police reports, officers were dispatched to 309 E. 24th at about Noon to investigate a disturbance. Patrolman Jerry Schlangen was the first to arrive on the scene. He said he went to the porch to the 24th Street address and one of the girls who were arrested called him a bad name and told him to get off the porch when he inquired about the disturbance.

Patrolman Schlangen said at Continued on Page 8

Reopen Birmingham Church where 4 Negro girls were killed

BIRMINGHAM (ANP) — The 16th Street Baptist Church in which four Negro girls were killed and 19 persons injured in an apparent racial bombing Sept. 15, reopened with an integrated service Sunday.

In the audience during the service of joy and sadness were the parents of the girls killed in the tragedy.

The pastor, the Rev. John H. Cross, presided over the service, and a white minister, Dr. H. O. Hester, of Montgomery, Ala., delivered the sermon. Rev. Cross and Dr. Hester are long-time friends.

Marking the re-entry, the Rev. Mr. Cross assembled the congregation on the sidewalk outside the church before the formal ceremony began. Then, slowly, the worshippers filed up the steps and into the church for the first time since it was bombed.

The glass-enclosed message board outside still bears the date Sept. 15, 1956.

As they entered the church, some were weeping and many were smiling. Before the procession began, several members of the congregation embraced. It appeared they had not seen each other since the bombing.

Earlier, 14 persons were baptized and Sunday school services for children were held in the basement where the tragedy occurred. Two church workers, Miss Mabel Bliss and Mrs. Rosetta Young, who were in the basement when the dynamite exploded, were back at their desks.

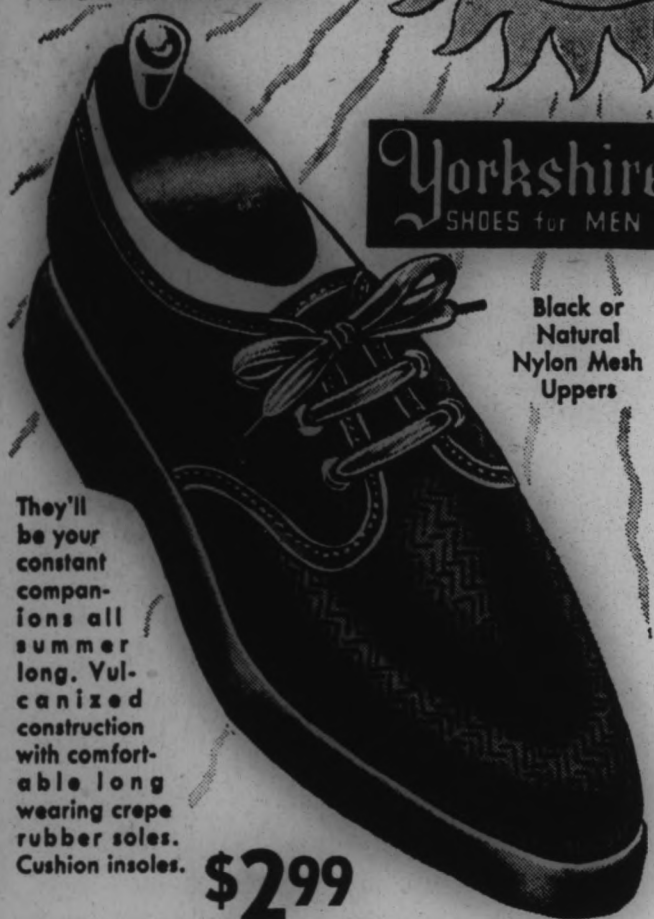

During the services there were few references to the bombing. The Rev. Mr. Cross admonished the congregation "not to look back in revengeful ways, but with love in our hearts."

DEATH CAR: This is what was left of the car in which Mrs. Freddie Lee Pinkton, 27, 2849 N. Dearborn, was killed Sunday night when it was struck by a train at the New York Central Railroad crossing at Sherman Drive and Massachusetts. According to reports, the car, being driven by Rev. Lonnie E. Tyner, 3602 N. Capitol, veered into the path of the train. (Recorder photo by Jim Burres)

Y. Rogers, who led the march. Fifteen were turned over to juvenile authorities and the others were jailed on charges of unlawful assembly, loitering, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Rogers' wife told reporters the marchers had proceeded only about 100 yards from the church when police halted them. "The people hemmed up in the church were only trying to get out," Mrs. Rogers remarked when quired about the bombardment of rocks, bottles and furniture. Naturally they threw bricks and furniture and everything they could get their hands on in trying to escape the tear gas.

"We almost suffocated. I saw a couple of people carrying others who had passed out. They wouldn't let us out for about 30 to 45 minutes.

After Police Chief William Marable ordered the tear gas barrage, the demonstrators poured out of the church, tears streaming from their eyes and gasping for breath.

Police pursued them into nearby alleys and other hiding places and dragged them into waiting wagons.

In the city jail, the chant of freedom songs continued as officers took them one by one for fingerprinting and mugging.

FBI agents stood by, watching.

In other racial violence Tuesday, a band of more than 300 angry whites broke through police line at St. Augustine, Fla., and attacked nearly 300 Negroes marching downtown only hours after a federal court judge had enjoined police and city officials from interfering with lawful demonstrations.

Three white integrationists marching with the demonstrators were beaten and a television cameraman was injured when his camera was slammed in to his face.

The Rev. William England, chaplain of Boston University, was one of the injured white demonstrators. The group was being led by the Rev. Andrew Young, an aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King.

About a dozen Florida police officers had tried to hold back the crowd of screaming whites, but about 50 broke through and began to pummel the demonstrators, and seemingly vented an extra degree of blind rage on the whites accompanying the Negroes.

They had marched silently to the heart of town, turned back and started to return before the whites charged the flimsy police lines and fell on the demonstrators.

Only last week a cottage rented in St. Augustine for King was riddled by gunfire. The cottage was unoccupied at the time the attack took place.

Earlier, Federal Judge Bryan Simpson ruled in Jacksonville that Negroes could demonstrate here "at any hour in the night."

St. Augustine officials had banned civil rights demonstrations.

After being informed of Judge Simpson's injunction, King vowed to return to this former slave port city and lead an "all-out-push" for total desegregation.

Police made no arrest while the Negroes were being attacked.

Registrations are still being accepted for the summer program activities of the Fall Creek Parkway YMCA, 860 W. 10th, it was announced this week.

Camping, swimming, crafts, special interest groups and field trips highlight the summer program, according to George W. Hancock, executive secretary.

"Fun Camp" for boys and girls, ages 7 to 14, will operate two four-week periods. This program, which began June 8 and will continue until July 31, is designed to aid working parents who desire their children to be in supervised activities from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

A well-rounded program of swimming, physical fitness, trips and arts and crafts is offered. Qualified leadership has been employed to work with all groups and activities.

Classes have been organized for youth and adults desiring special instruction. Recreational swim periods are scheduled daily for all age groupings. Registration is required for all classes, but not the recreational periods.

Several trips to places of interest in and around Metropolitan Indianapolis are planned. Two out-of-town trips to Chicago and Canada are also on the schedule. Information about these trips can be secured at the YMCA.

The gymnasium and exercise room will be open daily for individual work-outs and team practice, except when regular classes are scheduled. Several college and professional athletes use Fall Creek's facilities during the summer months.

Flat Rock Camp will again be available to Fall Creek youth. This fully-equipped summer camp is located near Shelbyville on the Flat Rock River. Fall Creek will send its boys July 6-16. Registrations are now being accepted.

Information concerning additional programs being offered, rates and time may be secured by calling the YMCA at ME. 4-2478, or by coming in and talking to officials.

Police nab six in Northside raid

A pre-dawn police raid Sunday at 2808 N. Illinois netted six persons who were arrested on dive charges.

Others nabbed were Harold Miller, 55, 3415 Kenwood; James Quinn, 28, 710 N. Illinois; Thomas Calvin Howard, 40; Edgar E. Hardy, 40, 919 Margaret B. PIONEERS IN EDUCATION: James Meredith (left) and Harvey Gantt discuss their plans with the lawyer who succeeded in having them admitted to previously segregated southern universities, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, associate counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. The occasion was the final session of the fund's 25th anniversary convocation, held last week in New York City.

Opening of Broadway Park is a dream come true

A group of local citizens and committees who have joined forces to improve living conditions on the near-Northside saw one of their goals realized Saturday with the opening of a new community park.

Broadway Community Park, located at the corner of 17th and Broadway in a mixed neighborhood, was dedicated by Mayor John J. Barton during somewhat festive ceremonies which included among other things a parade and a fish fry.

The opening of the park was the results of co-operative work of several community organizations sparked chiefly by OPI (Operation Prove It), composed of an interracial group of representatives from different churches.

Other groups who had a hand in the project were the Christian Inner-City Association, an inter-denominational group and parent agency for OPI, the United Neighborhood Development Association and the Home Protection League. Backers of the project hope that the neighborhood's more than 200 youngsters will use the park's facilities for recreation instead of nearby alleys and streets.

OPI was formed in 1962 and its present membership includes Rev. Roe Johnston of First Presbyterian Church, president; Rev. Vernon Hacker, Zion Evangelical Church; Rev. William Anderson of Central Methodist Church; Arthur Pratt Jr. of Christ Church Cathedral; Rev. Roy Beverly, Zion Baptist Church, and Dr. F. Benjamin Davis of New Bethel Baptist Church.

After a study by the Indianapolis Church Federation of problems on the near-Northside, the group set out to see what it could do.

Its influence has been behind cleanup campaigns in the neighborhood, demolition of condemned buildings, street cleaning and repair programs. About a year ago, OPI presented its park proposal to the City Council. The Council gave its approval as did the Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission.

than Nigeria." Bassey objected. "Nigeria is the biggest country in Africa."

Scott tried to smooth the issue by saying, "One out of every five people in Africa lives in Nigeria." But the talkative Clay refused to be pacified.

"Well," blurted Cassius, "isn't Egypt the powerfulest country with all them rockets and their big army and their dams?"

Bassey, in his Oxfordian English, tried to explain to Clay the extent of the damage the curtailment of the visit would cause. He said:

"Mr. Muhammad (Clay), you are a champion. You're supposed to keep your promises. We scheduled an exhibition in London. Thousands have bought tickets to see you. We organized a soccer game specially in your honor. We invited important officials to banquets. You were picked to judge the Miss Nigeria contest on Saturday. If you leave us now, you'll mess everything up."

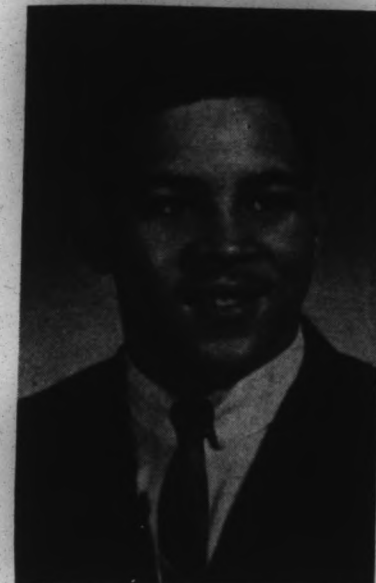

The attempted reasoning only served to irritate Clay. "Now look," he replied wagging his finger. "I don't appreciate anybody telling me to do this or do that. Nobody tells me what to do or when to do it but me."

Herbert Muhammad, son of "The Honorable" Elijah Muhammad, head of the "Black" Muslim sect, to which Clay belongs, interceded at that point, saying "Well now, I think we all agree this is of no concern to Mr. Scott and these nice embassy folks who've asked us around. This is just a little misunderstanding."

The party then left the embassy in three cars for a radio interview which Clay was scheduled to give. But as they arrived in downtown Lagos, Clay stopped his car and announced that he wanted "to get a record player." This further irritated Bassey, who stopped his car, jumped out, and remarked:

"That clown. He wants to go shopping? He calls himself a champion? When's he going to realize he's over 21 and start acting like it?"

Sweepstakes winner, eight others cited at Sunday soiree

By PAT WILLIAMS STEWART
Women's Editor

An appreciative audience enjoyed immensely the "Sunday Souper Soiree" sponsored by the National Council of Negro Women at the Knights of Columbus Hall which featured the presentation of certificates to an interracial aggregation of outstanding women in the community who have contributed exceptionally in their fields of endeavor.

The most surprised person at the soiree was the very personable Mrs. Jessie Jacobs who received a special award as "Sweepstakes Winner." Mrs. Jeanetta Greene, soiree chairman, announced that Mrs. Jacobs received more votes in the eight categories than any other nominee so was due something special. Mrs. Jacobs also received recognition in the field of legislation.

Believing that "behind every successful man is a woman," NCNW members presented Mrs. Matthew E. Welsh, the governor's wife, a special award. Mrs. Welsh was attributed with encouraging her husband in his decision-making concerning civil rights strides. The honor given Mrs. Welsh, who was out of the city at the Governor's Conference, was accepted by the delightful Mrs. John Barton, the mayor's wife.

For being the first Negro woman elected to public office in Indiana, Mrs. Gertrude Page was presented an award by Mayor Barton. A like honor went to Mrs. C. B. LaDine for her prize winning project on the anti-crime commission with high school drop-outs, whose award was accepted by the pleasing Miss Sara Ewing and presented by Mayor Barton. Mrs. LaDine was in Washington, D.C., where the project is being considered for more recognition.

Other charming recipients were Mmes. Margaret Smith and Laura Hughes, beauty culture; Ernestine McCree, fine arts, and Stella Woodall, education. Mrs. Woodall, who is satisfactorily recuperating from a car accident, designated Mrs. Frances Schexsneider, National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa regional director, to accept her award. James C. Cummings Jr., Barrington executive, made the presentations.

Others honored were Miss Rose Wright, human relations, presented by Dr. Melvin Baird Jr.; Mrs. Edna Martin, religion, accepted by Mrs. Hazel Moore and presented by Senator Robert Lee Brockenburr; Mrs. Dora Oma Powell, business, presented by Senator Brockenburr, and Mrs. Osma Spurlock, civil rights, accepted by Mrs. Pauline Morton-Finney and presented by Robert Williams. Senator Brockenburr was accompanied by his wife, Nettie.

Deep thanks are expressed by NCNW committee members and other affiliates for the aid given by everyone especially the contributors: Mrs. Effie Allen, Rev. James L. Cummings, Atty. Mercer M. Mance, Dr. and Mrs. Lucian Meriwether, and James M. Stanley.

The patrons were Senator and Mrs. Brockenburr, Dr. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings Jr., and Mmes. Hughes, Schexsneider, Page, Cheatham, Moore, Florence Anthony, Pauline Craig, Emma Wilhite, Robert Williams, Georgia Robinson, Robert Fanning, John Reed, Otis R. Bryant, Frances N. Stewart, Cora S. Jones, Carl M. Anderson, and S. Henry Bundles.

Also Atty. Cary Jacobs, Miss Anna Stout, Master Horace Page Jr., Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Johnson, Congressman and Mrs. William G. Bray, Atty. and Mrs. Don A. Tabbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zickler. Committee members were easily identified by their pretty white carnation corsages. They were besides Mrs. Greene, the charming Mmes. Harriette Cheatham, Sue Johnson, Irene Robinson, Mary Agnes Anderson, Johnnie Stoner, Lilla Adams, Coster Middleton, Wyetta Gilmore and Miss Ruth R. Trice. A lovely orchid corsage, which received many compliments, was worn by the NCNW president, Mrs. Grace Bryant, as a gift from her sons, Messrs. Otis R. Bryant Jr., Mason Bryant, and James Bryant. The latter also sung at the soiree. Rt. Rev. John Craine delivered the invocation.

Church Events

BY WILLA THOMAS

MRS. W. M. ROBINSON

It is Vacation Church School time and we are hoping that each church in the city will have vacation school so that youngsters can have something worthwhile to do during the summer. Theme for classes this year is "Jesus." At night vacation school classes, there will be sessions for adults. If your church is planning such activity, please let us know.

Churches currently conducting classes include New Light Baptist, and Witherspoon Presbyterian.

At Mt. Paran Baptist Church, vacation school will be held July 20 through July 31 and at New Bethel Baptist Church, August 10 through August 21.

Here are some project hints for Vacation Church School:

CROP, which helps feed the world's hungry, is in dire need of support. One dollar buys 400 lbs. of food. Send donations to CROP, 1622 N. Meridian, Indianapolis.

The Leprosy Committee is another support seeker. Funds are needed to help pay doctors, buy drugs and secure other badly needed supplies in combating the dreaded disease. Mail all donations to me, c/o The Recorder, 518 Indiana Ave.

On Sunday afternoon, I will be guest at New Bethel Baptist Church's Hawaiian Tea sponsored by the Starlight Band. You are invited too.

Congratulations to my grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Henry, who will celebrate her birthday next week.

First Baptist Church, North, lost a faithful member, Mack B. Brown, last week. We shall always remember him as the fine Christian he was.

Meeting June 9 through June 11 at Hanover College will be the Indiana Synod of the United Presbyterian Church. A seminar on race and religion will open the meeting. Dr. Ware W. Wimberly of Wabash is moderator.

The annual dinner meeting of the directors and ministers of Christian Education will be held 6:30 p.m. Friday at Third Christian Church, 5220 E. Fall-creek Parkway, North Drive. Speaker will be Dr. Alfred R. Edgely, professor of nance, he said many Negroes were disappointed because he didn't take a more positive stand on the proposal.

During the news conference, Michael J. Smith, chairman of CORE, charged that Graves' absence "proves he and the board have a negative attitude concerning this issue."

Also speaking at the conference was Mrs. Edna Johnson, president of the Central City Real Estate Board. She said that any "willing seller ought to be free to sell property to any willing buyer without pressure from the Real Estate Board."

"I don't think white property owners are nearly as reluctant to sell to Negroes as the realtors say they are," Mrs. Johnson stated.

Meanwhile, Graves said he did not attend the conference because he didn't know about it until noon Tuesday and had made a previous engagement.

CORE officials said a telegram was sent special delivery to him Monday morning.

Graves said the charges were completely untrue. He also said that he was disappointed in reports that CORE had brought in "agitators from outside."

Torian said that local newspapers had identified one of CORE's members as a field secretary. The member was Phil Lawson who is an Indianapolis resident.

Graves has said that he and his board are definitely against the proposal and have suggested that Mayor Barton appoint a committee to study the housing problem.

Ristine prevailed after Hendricks and Gates forsook the contest. H. Dale Brown, Marion County chairman, a Bray supporter, following the second ballot released his contingent for Bray.

Trailing Congressman Donald C. Bruce on the first ballot when the count was Bruce, 851 and Bontrager, 831, and former State Sen. Edgar D. Whitcomb, 473—Bontrager made a singular comeback. Bontrager, on the second ballot picked up signal gains in the Sixth and Eighth Congressional Districts and the result was (totals) Bontrager, 963, Bruce, 852 and Whitcomb, 364.

The final total were Bontrager, 1,142; Bruce, 850, and Whitcomb, 178.

The defeat of Robert E. Hughes is contemplated as a setback for former U.S. Sen. William E. Jenner. He supported Hughes' bid for the nomination. Hughes in some areas has been styled a rampant, right-wing follower of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, as is Congressman Donald C. Bruce. To a lesser extent both Ristine and Bontrager are styled Goldwater partisans.

Former Congresswoman Mrs. Cecil Harden, Covington, was elected national committeewoman by the State Committee following the convention. She replaces Mrs. Ione Harrington, Chesterton. It is reported she left the post to work for Sen. Goldwater. Mrs. Harrington is assistant to the national chairman of women working for Goldwater. Walter Beardsley, Elkhart industrialist, was re-elected national committeeman.

Other nominees were: Lt. Gov. John M. Ryan, Indianapolis, unopposed; Gerald Powell, Peru, Secretary of State; John Snyder, Washington, State Treasurer; Edwin K. Steers, Indianapolis, Attorney General, unopposed; and James R. Odon, Supt. of Public Instruction. Alen Lindley, Westfield was nominated for State Auditor on the first ballot in a spirited two-man contest.

James C. Cooper, Indianapolis was nominated for the State Supreme Court. Nominees for the Appellate Court were John Paff, South Bend, incumbent; Charles W. Cook, Indianapolis; Douglas McDonald, Princeton; George R. Glass, Shelbyville and Dewey Kelley, Whiting.

Mrs. Virginia B. Caylor, Indianapolis was nominated for Supreme and Appellate Court Reporter.

passed when a candidate seeking any office (outside the South) can totally disregard the power of the Negro vote," one civil rights executive commented.

"Goldwater's nomination will bring to the polls in November thousands of Negroes who have never bothered to vote before—all intent on halting a reversion to the 19th century principles as espoused by the ultra-rightist views of the Arizona senator," another NAACP executive remarked.

Voting 101, cloture were 44 Democrats and 27 Republicans, including Democratic Senators Edward V. Long and Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican minority leader who had helped press the bipartisan fight for passage.

Under the terms of cloture each senator's time to debate the bill and all amendments will now be limited to one hour. Senate leaders are confident the measure will be passed in about two weeks and ready for President Johnson's signature shortly thereafter.

The house passed the bill Feb. 10 by a vote of 290 to 130. The Senate has been fighting over it since March 9, with Southerners mounting a record-breaking filibuster.

The Senate's public galleries were crowded as the vote on cloture was taken.

The vote followed an all-night session of the Senate at which Senator Robert C. Byrd (D-Va.), made a long-winded speech attacking the civil rights bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

Byrd began his speech at 7:38 p.m. and continued until 9:52 a.m. When he finally quit, the Senate took an eight-minute recess, then went back into session. It had agreed Tuesday to meet at 10:00 a.m.

The cloture rule has been invoked only five other times since its adoption in 1917 and Senate leaders previously have never been able to marshal the necessary two-thirds vote necessary to halt Southerners filibustering against rights legislation.

that time another officer, Patrolman Robert Leary, came to the scene and they started talking to Miss Bertram who told them that two sisters had been fighting at the 24th Street address.

The officers said the girl came out on the steps and started calling the officers names and told them to get away from her house.

Officer Leary then reportedly grabbed the girl by the arm and told she was under arrest, but she broke away and ran through the house, out the side door and into the side door of Miss Bertram's address.

As the officers entered the house, they were reportedly "jumped" by four other girls and the scuffle began. During the melee one of the girls grabbed Officer Leary's pistol and hid it in the basement, where it was later found.

Police said Miss Bertram joined in the scuffle after telling the officers to get out of her house and reminding them that the girls were "Negro juveniles" and that they were essary to halt Southerners filibustering against rights legislation.

Goldwater said he voted against the cloture measure as a matter of "principle" and that his nay vote did not indicate he was against civil rights.

But, he said after the vote, he may feel forced to vote against the bill itself.

"I can't vote for this bill. But the way I see it now, the sponsors probably have the votes to steamroller this bill through in about 10 days.

"white adults." Officers said as they were putting the girls in the patrol wagon, they were yelling that they were being "discriminated" against.

The Recorder was unable to reach Miss Bertram for comment. The girls were scheduled to appear in juvenile court Thursday afternoon on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

The wonderful world of SPORTS

Charles J. Livingston

By Charles J. Livingston
CHICAGO (ANP)—Every summer a "spot" of Jolly Ole England, and, to some extent, of the British Commonwealth nations, is transplanted in America.

But, mark you, not a "bloody" piece of English turf is involved in the transaction. The transfer is physical, all right, but only in terms of the flesh and bones and exuberance of the flannel-clad sportsmen of British descent who carry on a centuries-old British tradition with a game called cricket.

But before "getting on" with the cricket story, let me answer the question which I know will immediately crop up in the minds of most Americans: What is cricket?

In specific terms, cricket like baseball, is a game of bat and ball. But in more general terms, it is much more than that to the "Blokes" who play it, and the discerning fans who follow it. From a player's standpoint, to be a real cricketer is to be "Blooming" good at play and sportsmanship. The cricket fan, on the other hand, regard the game as "A Sport As Well As an Institution."

As a sport, cricket is the national pastime in England, Australia, the West Indies, and other British Commonwealth nations, such as India and Pakistan, much the same as baseball in America. And it is played with much the same enthusiasm and intensity, and certainly with more concentration. As an institution, cricket reaches far beyond the playing field. Many a cricketer is indebted "to the game" for his wife, for cricketers enjoy much the same great hero worship as the Willie Mays, Mickey Mantles, Sandy Koufaxes, Tommy Davises and Elston Howards, in baseball. The cricketers, in turn, have a devotion to cricket that borders on fanaticism. So intense is the devotion, that a cricketer once told his spouse: "the winters are yours, and the summers are mine"—to play cricket. One Chicago cricketer even sought to interrupt his honeymoon to play in "an important match." His wife, an American, promptly vetoed the suggestion.

But I still haven't fully answered the question of what is cricket.

Cricket is a game for keen minds and able bodies. It calls for patience, diligence, concentration and judgment on the part of the players. For, unlike baseball, the aim of the batsman is to remain at the wickets (batters' box) as long as possible and at the same time score runs. The bowler on the other hand, tries to "bowl him out" (hit his stumps or cause him to pop up). Some expert batsmen can score more than 100 runs in a single turn at bat.

Like baseball, cricket utilizes a wicketkeeper (catcher), and bowler (pitcher), but there the similarity ends. In baseball, three outs decide an inning; nine innings a game, in regular play. In cricket, all 11 men on a side must bat before the other team gets a chance. The team that scores the most runs wins the game. A test (championship) match consists of two innings.

This column was inspired by the scheduled opening, on May 17, the 1964 Illinois Cricket Association's season, at Washington Park here. This means that brogue-speaking "lads" will don gleaming-white trousers and shirts and fancy caps and take to the field to indulge once again in their favorite English pastime, in an American setting. The playful ritual will be repeated (although not on the same date) on turfs throughout the United States, including, appropriately, the United Nations.

It is doubted that many Americans know this, but cricket at one time seemed destined to become the national sport in America. In fact, it was a commanding sport in the eastern part of the United States as early as 1747. The sport had been brought to the then American colonies early in the 18th century, and held away until 1860, when it gave way to the baseball craze which was then sweeping the nation. In fact, former cricketers helped to organize baseball, and Harry Wright, manager of the first professional baseball team, the Cincinnati Red Stockings, was an ex-cricketer. Today, cricket is again gaining in popularity in America.

Willie Mays drops first fly ball in ten years

SAN FRANCISCO (ANP)—The dexterity of Willie Mays as a fielder is reflected in the fact that he dropped his first fly ball in 10 years here last week.

Until last week, Willie had been snagging fly balls without an error since Sept. 9, 1954, when the then New York Giants were home-based at the Polo Grounds. The team is now the San Francisco Giants and Mays is still its sensational center-fielder.

Mays dropped fly ball came in a game between the Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates, which San Francisco won, 3-0.

Benefiting from Willie's rare error was Donn Clendenon, in seventh inning. Two men were out at the time, but the error proved harmless, as the Giants rolled to the victory.

Griffin, Rodriguez are both suffering eating problems

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (ANP)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith, and challenger Luis Rodriguez, both in training here for their June 12 title, are both having eating problems.

Griffith is overweight and must constantly watch his weight, exercise more and eat less.

Rodriguez is not confronted with the problem of reducing, but he was having trouble getting the kind of grub he wants to eat.

When he first arrived from Miami Beach, he wanted to cook his own food in his hotel room, but the management refused to let him. He finally settled to eat what they cooked if he could give them his own recipes, which include several fancy Spanish dishes.

The hotel doesn't cook them exactly to his liking.

Sifford tops Palmer, Nicklaus in N.Y. golf tourney

RYE, N.Y. (ANP)—Slamming Charlie Sifford pocketed $2,975 in the Thunderbird Golf Classic here Sunday, after finishing in a four-way tie for fifth place in the tournament won by Tony Lema. Lema collected $20,000 as first prize money.

Sifford surged into contention after shooting a disappointing 75 in the first round. He shot a sizzling 67 in the second round and followed it up with third and fourth round totals of 71 and 68. His total for the four rounds was 281.

Sifford finished in a tie with Mason Rudolph, Dan Sikes and Kel Nagle. He was only two strokes behind such top pros as Billy Casper and Ken Venturi, and topped such other celebrated golfers as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Tommy Jacobs, Julius Boros, Sam Snead and Tommy Bolt.

A crowd of 20,000 watched Sifford and the other competitors compete in the concluding round Sunday.

Daniels appears headed for banner season with Senators

WASHINGTON, D.C. (ANP)—This appears to be the comeback season for Bennie Daniels, now the ace right-hander of the Washington Senators.

Daniels, one of the few remaining members of Senators when the team was reorganized in 1961, is off to his best start in his major league career that extends back to 1957 with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

When the 31-year-old right-hander defeated the Detroit Tigers for his fifth victory of the season against two losses (both by the New York Yankees), he equaled his victory output for the entire 1963 season. He appeared well on the way to equaling or surpassing his total number of victories in 1961, when he notched 12 wins with a last-placed ball club.

Although he was relieved in that 8-to-2 victory over the Detroit club, Daniels reduced his earned run average to 2.94 and had yielded only one earned run in 15 2/3 innings.

If he goes on to his best season, Daniels will be justifying the confidence that was placed in him after he had his best season in baseball—in 1957 when he won 17 and lost 8 for the old Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League.

Back in spring training in 1960 when he was with the Pittsburgh team, his manager, Danny Murtaugh said:

"I think that Ben has as much stuff as anyone in the league. He could become a big winner with us."

At times last year he showed it, but then other times he was just so-so. He's big and strong and there were a couple of times when he pitched with just

White Sox give fan find bonus of $15,000

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (ANP)—Charles Hendricks, a native of Memphis and a sophomore student at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., last week was signed to a bonus contract of more than $15,000, after he was scouted by Negro scout Sam Hairston for the American League team.

Hendricks, who plays third base and was a three-letter star in high school here, will report to the Sox's Sarasota, Fla., farm team in the Florida State League, on June 21.

Hendricks, whose matured facial expression is accentuated by a jutting chin, is a solidly built athlete.

Hoosiers to battle super star and company June 20

The 1964 Indiana All-Stars began basketball practice sessions Wednesday with All-Star coach Angus Nicolson, who also doubles as basketball coach and athletic director at Indiana Central College, faced with the perplexing problem of how to stop 6-8 Negro Westley Unseld, the Kentucky super-star Nicolson is handling the coaching chores for the Indiana squad for the 13th consecutive year.

The first game of the two-game series will be held in Louisville's Freedom Hall on June 20, followed by The Indianapolis Star's 24th annual All-Star Game for the benefit of the blind in Butler Fieldhouse at Indianapolis June 27.

Unseld, the Louisville Seneca ace, who made practically all of the high school All-American teams this spring, has won the highest praise from everyone who has seen him play. Unseld is being touted as the nearest thing to the "perfect" basketball player since Oscar Robertson.

Indiana will be giving away height to the Kentuckians this year all down the line. The Kentucky team averages a little over 6-3, while Indiana's average about 6-1½.

In addition to Unseld, Kentucky coach Morton Combs has 6-7 George Stone of Covington Grant, 6-5 Norman Weaver of Allen County and 6-5 James Howe of Owensboro. The only player under 6-1 is Leonard Poole, a 5-10 sharpshooter from Breckenridge High School with an average last season of 30.5 a game and a single game high of 72 points.

Indiana's tallest boys are No. 2 Jerry Newson of Columbus, No. 3 Mike Weaver of Huntington and No. 10 Tom Baack of Fort Wayne, all 6-5.

At the other end of the ruler are 5-7 Mike Shumaker of Huntington, 5-9 Dick McIntosh of Tipton and two boys who are an even six feet — Steven Clevenger of Anderson and Steve Hohenbeck of Columbus. In between are 6-4 Scott Sinnock of New Castle, 6-3 Terry Stillbrow of Lafayette Jeff and 6-1½ Denny Brady of Lafayette Jeff, this year's "Mr. Basketball."

On the plus side of the ledger, Indiana should have plenty of speed, fine shooting and good ball handling. Nicolson believes that the condition of the Indiana All-Stars when they reported will be a major factor in who wins the two games this year, especially the first one. This has been proved to him by past All-Star teams.

Neither team has been able to win two games since the Hoosiers turned the trick in 1948. For the last four years, Indiana has won at Louisville but lost at Indianapolis.

Since this annual series was founded in 1939, Indiana has a 22-9 edge in victories but many of these wins came in the early years when Kentucky teams were not considered as representative of the state's finest as those of more recent vintage.

Indiana will have an intrasquad scrimmage game at 2 p.m. Saturday, in the Indiana Central College gym which will be open to the public.

A number of good seats for the Indianapolis game still are available. Ticket request should be addressed to All-Star Game, The Indianapolis Star, 307 N. Pennsylvania, Indianapolis, Ind. Checks should be made payable to All-Star Basketball Game, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope should accompany orders.

A special ceremony honoring all former All-Stars from both states is being planned at the Louisville game. Former All-Stars are asked to contact the Baldwin Ticket office, 309 W. Walnut, Louisville 2, Ky. for free tickets to the game.

Housing problems accrue in progress

A group of householders or homemakers approximating eventually 400 families will be dispossessed from their habitation on the downtown Westside in the area east and south of the Indiana University Medical Center on West Michigan Street.

Officials of the university recently have informed the Indianapolis Housing Authority that plans for expansion of local facilities of the university necessitate acquiring more property in the vicinity of the Medical Center. The building program now proposed, is scheduled to be completed over a period of two to four years.

The Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission probably will make the purchases of the properties for the university as it has done in the past, a spokesman for the university has reported. Members of the commission include Robert A. Efronson, chairman; Bruce Savage, nationally known local real estate operator; Edward T. Windham, Dr. Joseph T. Taylor and Edwin H. Hughes III.

The Indiana State Highway Commission recently has sought also cooperation of the Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission, on initiating a survey in the area to be acquired for the construction of Interstate I-65 from 38th Street to Sixteenth Street. It appears that the Redevelopment Commission will commence immediately a survey of needs for housing by families dispossessed by the Interstate I-65 project. The survey concerns family size, quality and cost of housing sought, or other information that will facilitate the relocation of dispossessed families with a minimum of distress.

Contemplating the Interstate I-65 and the university projects in the course of the next three or four years it is ventured that upward of 15,000 householders of the metropolitan area will be dispossessed. Some of these homemakers have become well-rooted in their surroundings. Some of these in keeping with their financial means or resources have spent a lifetime in acquiring and maintaining their homes.

Some are "senior citizens" and others are low-income or under-privileged householders or homemakers of our "no mean city of homes." Unlike "the tree by the water, here and hereafter they shall move." Seemingly, for better or worse, transformation or transmutation is the way of life, involving challenges of progress.

The Redevelopment Commission, it appears, is committed to relief of housing distress (housing problems) of all families about to be displaced in the Medical Center area. According to one report the commission may sponsor a low-cost housing project to meet problems involved.

Otherwise, or elsewhere like projects might be entertained. However, it remains to be demonstrated that "senior citizens" and low-income or under-privileged householders presently confronted with challenges (ventures) of progress shall realize ordinarily up to the mark, or even-handed reparations.

New challenges on educational front

The Legislative Advisory Committee is scheduled to meet in this city this week to hear a full report on the establishment of four-year college courses at regional centers over the state. The hearings or reports appear to relate to the proposed multi-million dollar Indiana-Purdue Universities regional center four-year programs.

During the month of May the Indiana Conference on Higher Education reported the regional center four-year programs are necessary or fitting in meeting challenges on exemplary schooling for the increasing youthful population of the state's major urban communities. Metropolitan areas designated in the proposals include Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, South Bend and Gary.

Again the conference report noted that a county-by-county analysis indicated that in Marion, Lake, St. Joseph, Allen and Elkhart Counties, before 1973, the number of students would be so large that four-year campuses will be essential if qualified students are to be served. John Hicks, assistant to the president of Purdue University recently ventured that the target date for the graduation of the first classes is 1969.

The regional centers would have the same standing as the parent school and would need technical laboratories, scientific equipment, etc. at each site. Bachelor degrees in elementary education, business, liberal arts and technology would be offered initially and other degrees would be offered as the program is developed.

Little opposition has been reported to the program since mid-May, in any area where it has been ventured that the challenges involved must be met. It appears that the four-year regional center program faces no opposition in the Calumet area. Elsewhere, or particularly in Marion County, Indianapolis, some interest has followed the idea of establishing a tax-supported junior college.

Two schools of thought appear to obtain in regards to the local tax-supported junior college proposal. The "power structure" of the metropolitan community appears to oppose the idea. Seemingly, it appears that the proposed project would increase the present city property rate of $9 by at least $1. The head of the city's public schools, George Ostheimer, recently observed that "some forces" were attempting to get junior colleges mandated for the state, but if the state is going to demand junior colleges in large cities then it should provide the financing.

Metropolitan communities of the midwest, comparable in size to our city, are meeting new and compelling challenges confronted in throes of progress. Over a period of two decades one encounters the like everywhere over the nation. But the "power structure" dominating our provincial atmosphere has restrained evolution of a "space age" socio-economic climate as anticipated presently in many, many metropolitan communities comparable in size to our city.

Among others, such challenges involve "realistic" cross-town public transit, trans-urban traffic arteries (thru-ways, etc.), metropolitan-plan district police housing, a civic auditorium (exemplary on a national scale or level), more exemplary recreation facilities - and last or first enhanced secondary educational facilities.

Eventually, our metropolitan community must afford promises to youth of exemplary secondary educational facilities of a comprehensive nature. This must follow in meeting boasts of an exemplary socio-economic climate. On assuming that formidable opposition to a local tax-supported junior college now exists, a compelling alternative would be the proposed four-year regional center projects of Indiana and Purdue Universities.

The christian's responsibility for world peace

By REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH

(LARGER LESSON: Micah 4:1-5; Matt. 28:19-20; Romans 12:14-21; 1 Tim. 2:1, 2; LESSON PRINT: Romans 12:14-21; 1 Tim. 2:1, 2; MOTTO TEXT: Matt. 5:9 TIME: A D 60 WRITTEN FROM CORINTH.)

In times like these, no subject tries men's souls more than this one. Let us examine it as follows:

I. The Prophet's Vision of a Time of Peace Micah 4:1-5. II. They That Take The Sword. Matt. 26:47-52.

III. Paul's Admonition Concerning Peace. Romans 12:14-21. IV. Special Prayer For Rulers. Tim. 2:1, 2.

THE PROPHET'S VISION OF A TIME OF PEACE: I used to tell my father that his annual Christmas talk blocked out Santa Claus when he referred to Matt. 24 where it says "There shall be wars and rumors of wars. Now I believe that scripture and that it has been fulfilled and over-filled."

We've had wars since the cruel days of Cain. Why not believe this promise too: "Nations shall not lift up their swords any more against nations; neither shall they study war anymore. They shall beat their swords into plowing shares and their spears into pruning hooks."

Why can we not believe that? Haven't we religion enough?

THEY THAT TAKE THE SWORD: Jesus said they that take the sword shall die of it. I had the privilege of talking some time ago during a seminar with one of the inventors of the atom bomb. The act of our country - a Christian country - dropping it on Hiroshima, Nagasaki had made him regret that he ever invented the thing.

He says that "without inner controls, he that taketh the bomb shall die of it." We have to elect men to Congress and the Presidency who have sufficient Godly inner controls to call them to making the bomb an instrument of health, and service and not of destruction.

PAUL'S ADMONITION CONCERNING PEACE: Peace is contingent upon right attitudes.

1. Keep the mind of Christ. No other religion guarantees those attitudes as does Jesus in His life and the Sermon on the Mount.

2. Don't act like you know too much. 3. Live peaceably with all men (vs. 18). 4. Don't plan to get even. 5. Overcome evil with good.

These characteristics must be practiced by Christian first at home, at church, among our own citizenship and in ever widening circles throughout the world.

PRAYER FOR RULERS: Our President, governors, secretary of state, representatives and senators need our prayer. The fact that Russians and Chinese are not a part of our Christian and Jewish Philosophy makes getting along with them difficult.

President Johnson and all these conflicting nations need your prayer, sympathy and consideration that they may judge both rightly and fairly. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow describes our greatest need in 1964 in his "The Arsenal at Springfield."

Were half the power that filled the world with terror, Were half the wealthy bestowed on camps and courts, Given to redeem the human mind from error There were no need of arsenals or forts.

Down the dark future, through long generations, The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease; And like a bell, with solemn, sweet vibrations,

I hear once more the voice of Christ say, "Peace." Peace! and no longer from its brazen portals The blast of war's great organ shakes the skies! But beautiful as songs of the immortals, The holy melodies of love arise.

An open letter on open occupancy to Mayor Barton

BY ANDREW RAMSEY

Your Honor: We, the Negro citizens of Indianapolis, without whom you would not now be the mayor of our fair city, have been somewhat disappointed with your reported stand on various matters pertaining to the extension of first-class citizenship to us. We were particularly chagrined the other day to read in one of the sheets which passes for a newspaper in the Hoosier Capitol that your Honor was leaning toward the position of the Chamber of Commerce in regard to the pending ordinance on open occupancy.

We have tried appeals to the professed religion of the Real Estate Board and the City Fathers and we have appealed to the sense of fair play which is supposed to characterize American citizens and we have alluded to the egalitarian philosophy of the Declaration of Independence—all to no avail.

Perhaps we should try to employ the lessons which we have learned from history and from the reading of political news of the day.

As Your Honor has no doubt heard there is in the midst of the jungle of the Yucatan Peninsula in Mexico the ruins of a magnificent city which was founded in the middle of the Fifth Century A.D. and which was the center of a marvelous civilization. It was a metropolis of the Mayan, Toltec and finally the Aztec civilizations, but one day in the Fourteenth Century the city was abandoned. Why? No one knows why the citizens of Chichen-

Itza moved away and left standing the relics of a magnificent city.

In our own land, Your Honor, city after city is being deserted by the white citizens. They are prevented from total abandonment only by the Negroes who live there. And the fact that they stay is not exactly their fault. The whites are not only running but they have erected barriers to stop the Negroes at the city limits. So we have the phenomenon of cities which are gradually becoming all Negro surrounded by a ring of lily-white suburbs.

The whites who remain in the cities have erected barriers to prevent the Negroes of the city from being their neighbors. The allotted space in which Negroes are forced to live in inadequate and for the most part filled with ancient houses in a state of rapid delapidation. The enforced crowding, poverty and official neglect carry in their train.

And Your Honor it is no accident, nor is it because of a growing sense of fair play that so many Negroes are being elected to city councils and state legislatures all over the land and the number of Negro congressmen has risen in three decades from one to five with the end nowhere in sight. Whole councilmanic districts are year after year being deserted by urban whites, who seek the rarified air of the suburbs and the luxury of being protected from the proximity of Negroes.

Similarly, the racial outbreaks which are occurring in places like New York are the results of this dividing the city into Negro and white compounds—or have and have—not enclaves. And contrary to the pundits and white supremacists, these outbreaks of racial violence are not inspired by Moscow or outside agitators, but by the intolerable living conditions and their attendant evils which are forced upon the Negro by white real estate purveyors, who tell old wives' tales to keep the white population afraid and enhances the profits of the real estate fraternity.

The myth that property values decline whenever Negroes move into a neighborhood has been shown to be what it is—a pure fabrication and the other commonly repeated statement that Negroes prefer to live with other Negroes is based upon wishful thinking. Among Negroes there exist the cultural and economic differences which exist among whites, but the common factor of discrimination forces Negroes into a "race" if you please.

The fact that all Negroes are treated alike without regard to these differences may be good in that it serves to give leadership to the inarticulate, economically and culturally deprived Negroes who feel the brunt of racial discrimination more.

It is logical to contend that the dispersing of Negroes through the residential neighborhoods of a city would almost eliminate the demonstrations and the acts of hostility towards whites. These demonstrations and other manifestations of Negro unrest are the minority counteractions to majority aggressions.

Housing is one of the areas in which white supremacy has asserted itself to the detriment of democracy itself.

To pass the pending ordinance is not only the fair thing to do it is the best thing to do from a purely selfish point of view. Open occupancy will solve many problems of our city while actually creating none except in the minds of profit-minded real estate dealers and their ilk.

Africans not burdened with age

BY J. HENRY RANDALL

CHICAGO (AP)—The recent death of India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru as a result of a second heart attack within four months, preceded by the death last April of Sir A. Milson S. Margai, prime minister of Sierra Leone, has focused attention upon the current crop of rulers throughout the world, their ages, their respective normal longevities and illnesses, and their possible successors, if any.

The leading nations of the world have been particularly interested in the age statistics of their heads of states—most all of whom are in their 70's. Russia's Nikita Khrushchev celebrated his 70th birthday last month. France's Charles de Gaulle, at 73, is recuperating from a glandular operation. Red China's Mao Tse-Tung and Formosa's Chiang Kai-Shek are in their 70's; Tito of Yugoslavia, at 72, is ill. Ulbricht in East Germany is a 71-year-old by-pochondriac; Spain's Franco is 72; Portugal's Salazar, 75.

Most of these rulers can be put under the broadly general heading of "indispensable men," primarily because there has been no definitely announced successor for their respective offices should illness or death from natural causes leave a vacancy in the chief executive's office.

A somewhat similar but purely technical, situation existed in the United States with the assassination of the late John F. Kennedy. Though President Lyndon B. Johnson (who incidentally is but a mere youngster at 56 compared to other world leaders, even though he has suffered a mild heart seizure) stepped quickly into the void, there has and still is some question about the line of succession that perhaps will be a hot political item in future days.

One continent which presently does not have the problem of "age," perhaps with two exceptions; is Africa. The two exceptions are Emperor Haile of Ethiopia, who is 72; and Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya, who admits to being about that same age.

The average age of the current African rulers is 52 years. Of 47 African heads of state or possible chief executives pending independence, only six are in their 60's. On the other hand, there is one who is just 26 years old. He is Prince Constantine Bereng Seeiso Moshoeshoe II, who is tipped to become the first head of an independent nation of Basutoland.

Using Nehru's career as chief executive of India as an example (he spent 17 years as India's prime minister), and barring such things as assassinations (in the case of the late Sylvanus Olympio who was struck down by an assassin's bullet at 61), most African leaders can expect to rule over a country for at least another 20 years before they become septuagenarians and prone to the ills and ailments of an advanced age. This is assuming that they will retain the office that long.

The ages of the current African rulers and their countries in descending order, are:

Haile Selassie II	72	Ethiopia

Chuck Jackson and Stevie Wonder head Summer festival of stars coming to Murat

Believe Me... When I Tell You

By BOB WOMACK SR.

AFTER A BRIEF REST we are back with you again diggin' the news as we see it for your reading pleasure. Why, don't some people including the teenagers appreciate modern jazz?

Is it because it's strange to them, or is it because they are not broadminded enough to realize that as the years progress, so does everything else, including music.

Some teenagers say: "Oh, that OLD MUSIC IS SO SILLY. You can't dance by it." Now we ask you seriously, is it necessary for you to dance everytime you hear music? ... Certainly not, and as far as understanding is concerned, that is the purpose of our education ... Think it over my young friends and remember, the next time you hear some of that "silly music" on the radio or elsewhere, don't change stations. Listen and try to understand it. You just might learn to like it. Many of your parents do.

SPEAKING OF JAZZ, many of the local Sepia bistros, taverns, etc., do not know the meaning of jazz or Progressive music upon their bandstands.

These spots in question, go all-out for Rock 'n' Roll and Beatle sounds. The latter with-out a piano (88) featuring instead a guitar for the chord changes. We have found in our night-ly tours around the city that in most of these places, the musicians play the same popular numbers over and over again. Ask them for past hits of a few years back and you will receive an answer—"We don't have it, as yet." And yet, some of these up and coming young cats call themselves musicians.

SPEAKING OF THE YOUNG MUSICIANS: ... Many of them are working locations here playing for PEANUTS. In other words, waiting a five-hour gig for $10.00 per man including the leader. In some instances, we have learned that a certain group is working the same amount of hours at one of the Elk's Clubs for $6.00 per ... Wow! ... Some years back we had a tavern-owner tell us that the combo he had working for him was receiving $2.75 per-man for a night's work and that they were not worth that ... (Smile).

The union scale here is almost double with regards, to the above salaries stated. As we see it, some of the sepia nite spots have really hurt the entertainment profession. You do not find these "going-ons" in other parts of town ...

RECENTLY, one or the fans asked me if I still had the BOB-CATS ALL-STARS COMBO together ... Yes, I do. We play mostly weekend gigs over the state. However, the cats do not work for peanuts ... To have

The Summer Festival of stars headed by Chuck "Any Day Now" Jackson, will be the main attraction at the Murat theater Saturday, June 27, for two shows at 8:15 and 10:15 p.m. with all seats reserved. Tickets are NOW on sale at Claypool Ticket Agency in the Claypool Hotel. Mail orders accepted. Send self-addressed stamped envelope to the Agency.

Other stars on the much-publicized Chuck Jackson revue are: Stevie Wonder ("Thank You" and "Finger Tips"); The Soul Sisters ("I Can't Stand It"); Betty Everett ("The Shoop Shoop Song" and "You're No Good"); Inez Foxx ("Mockingbird"); Temptations ("I'll Be in Trouble" and "The Way You Do the Things You Do"); The Auburn Twins plus Choker Campbell and his orchestra with Bill Murray as emcee.

Chuck Jackson will sing all of his old standards and latest ballads which have endeared him to millions music buffs throughout the country.

All of the entertainers will be present in person. good musicians, or like good clothes, you must pay for them. In other words, one gets what he or she puts out ... Do you read me? ... The All-Stars can be contacted by calling the Recorder Theatrical Offices—ME. 4-1548 and ask for Mr. Gibson, the group's Personal Representative.

THAT FINAL HIGH ONE: ... Some singers have a certain dread of one high note that lurks ahead. They brace themselves, they fill their lungs, they wet their chops, they roll their tongues, they gulp one final breath of air and lift their eyes and say a prayer and hope they'll hit it right on key.

CHANGES MADE: ... Ex-bandleader Joe Ross, organist currently waiting with Cy "Floor Show" Jones nite at Dave's Lounge on Meridian St. We understand that other changes will be made in the line-up in the very near future.

Willis Mr. Hammond" Dyer and combo are playing weekends at the B. B. Restaurant and Lounge located on West 16th St. His personnel consist of—Dave Young, tenor sax, Albert Coleman Jr., drums and Henry Grooch, bass. Willis is Continued on Page 13

Because these fellas rank with and that should be enuf sed! the best in the country ... and should attract a lotta music buffs to Mr. "B's" Pomp Room at 825 W. 30th St., where your congenial host is Herschel Buckner.

THE FLAME: Ned Garrett and his combo are just what the doctor ordered for this Blake St. drinkery, and the people come from all 'round the town every Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday to dig these way out cats, featuring Sonny Rollins.

HUB BUB LOUNGE: The Hank Marr Quartet with Elbur Wilbur Longmeier on guitar, is literally taking the place apart, musically speaking. And when Hank turns his kickin' feet loose on the organ pedals, things really rock. Be sure and dig these far-out guys this weekend.

BLUE EAGLE: This Avenue bistro at California St. really rocks every Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SCOTTY'S: Scotty's Cock-tail Lounge does not have entertainment, but it is the most popular place in town. Here's where you dig the crowd nite.

HUB-HUB LOUNGE: The Hank Marr Quartet is really rockin' this man's fun spot, and everybody has been in one happy mood since last Monday nite when the boys opened to a large crowd. It has been nothing but fun galore all week and lots of Hank Marr fans are expected over the weekend.

THE RIGHTS MOVEMENT: According to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI

during his recent testimony before a Congressional Committee that certain Civil Rights organizations are infiltrated with Communists. And thus the clean-up began. Within five years, the NAACP was relatively free of persons suspected of Red leanings.

Today's problem, however, is a bit different. The NAACP, by the very nature of its structure, exercises a greater degree of control over its branches, than any other volunteer Rights Group. This does not exist in any one of the others.

Assuming that Communists are in the Civil Rights movement and we have no reason to dispute the pronouncements of the FBI Chief, it will not be an easy task to shed such individuals, especially as they are not identified. This is to say—that the Reds are with us.

He went on to say that while

Negroes, by and large, have not been taken in by the Communists, that the Reds are exploiting legitimate complaints of responsible Civil Rights Organizations. Of course, the natural idea that follows, is for the organizations in question rid themselves of undesirable persons, yet, such an idea may be more academic than practical. . . . NO COMMUNISTS

Some years ago, when the Party Faithful set out to infiltrate the various NAACP branches across the country, the National Board went on record as being opposed to Red influence. The National NAACP office went a step further.

It pointedly told its branches: Clean out or forfeit your membership and for sometime to come. But all is not lost. There is a way left to rid ourselves of the nuisances of the Communist-inspired problems. Just get rid of the "Legitimate Complaints" which the Reds are said to exploit. Hence, no problems . . . NO COMMUNISTS

Questions and Answers on Civil Rights Bill.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth and final article of a series on questions and answers about the civil rights bill now pending before Congress.)

DOESN'T THIS BILL ATTEMPT THE IMPOSSIBLE TASK OF TRYING TO ABOLISH PREJUDICE BY LAW?

No. The bill says nothing about prejudice. That is a state of mind and a man has a right to his individual prejudices no matter how wrongly conceived they are. But he has no right, in a democracy, to translate his prejudices into actions that deny or infringe the rights and liberties of others. The whole purpose of this bill is not to make bad people good but rather to make good people safe.

CAN'T THE PROBLEM OF DISCRIMINATION BE HANDLED THROUGH EDUCATION? That question assumes education and legislation are separate and opposing things. Actually, they complement each other. The law itself is a powerful instrument for education. It was necessary to pass laws making school attendance compulsory before our educational system was able to function effectively. After thousands of years it is still necessary to have laws against murder to enforce the ethical teaching of "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

WHO SUPPORTS THIS BILL? Millions of Americans. With a unanimity unique in the history of our country, several millions have joined in support of this legislation through their national religious, civic, labor and fraternal groups. They may be united on many issues.

They are united, through the "Leadership Conference on Civil Rights," in working to persuade the 88th Congress to pass a strong, effective bill. Through more than 80 groups that cooperate in the Conference, they represent an affirmation by the majority of the people in this country of President Johnson's declaration, in his first State of the Union Message, that "as far as the writ of Federal law will run, we must abolish not some but all racial discrimination."

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO HELP? If you are appalled by the pictures and stories of fellow Americans who are beaten, hosed and bitten because they seek only to establish their right to eat in a public place or vote or, if you, alone with your conscience, believe all citizens have equal rights which equal laws should protect, or if you regret you are not in the front lines of the civil rights struggle, you have a part to play in the passage of this legislation. H.R. 7152 is now before the U.S. Senate. You can begin to help get the bill passed by writing to your senators.

When you write be "specific." Don't just say you're for civil rights urge your senators to (1) support the bill in its present form, and (2) vote against all weakening amendments.

A correct vote on the bill is not enough. Be sure to tell them that if they support the legislation they should stay close to the Senate floor, ready to answer quorum calls, ready to oppose any attempt to set the bill aside and ready to work to bring the filibuster to an end "without compromise."

New Yorkers urge Senate passage of rights bill

WASHINGTON (ANP)—More than 300 persons representing community and religious organizations of the Lower Eastside Neighborhoods Association of New York City came to Washington, last week, in a bus caravan to support Senate passage of a strong civil rights bill.

The delegation was led by Rev. Michael Allen, Rector of St. Mark's-in-the-Bowwery Church, who declared:

"There is a myth in Washington that the people back home do not care, and this is one neighborhood's answer to this fabrication. We on the Lower East Side do care about how our neighbors are treated and want to make sure all Americans have equal opportunity."

The group first met with New York Senator Kenneth B. Keating, and later visited other Congressmen and the Senate Gallery to listen to the civil rights debate on the Senate floor.

Several bus loads of the visitors visited the graves of President Kennedy and Medgar Evers at Arlington National Cemetery, and also the Prayer Vigil for Civil Rights at the Lincoln Memorial.

PTA heads stand up to be counted

CHICAGO (ANP)—Before closing its annual convention in the Conrad Hilton hotel here last week, the 12-million member National Parents and Teachers Association headed the call made by several members to take a stand on the civil rights battle and not leave it to others to fight.

"Its resolution, almost unanimously adopted, declared: 'We believe that some children, because of their race or color or creed, suffer injustices and inequality of educational opportunities and inequality of work opportunities and... we are compelled by conscience and conviction to right these wrongs through just and peaceful solution.'"

Ex-Prexy says NAACP too aggressive

MILWAUKEE (ANP)—In a rift with organization regulars, Atty. James W. Dorsey, a past president and longtime member of the Milwaukee NAACP, last week announced that he was resigning from the chapter, saying it has become "too aggressive."

He also denounced what he termed the use of children in a recent school boycott here "for the accomplishment of personal ambitions of individuals."

In announcing his resignation, Dorsey, 67, said: "I hate to see the NAACP falling in line with other civil rights groups that use techniques other than legal redress." I regret my resignation very much, but that is the way I look at it.

Nurse gets $5,000 from bus line

NEW YORK (ANP)—The Safeway Trails, Inc., an interstate bus company which does not operate south of Washington, D.C., was held responsible for the humiliation and injuries suffered by Mrs. Florence Blaize Ephraim, 42-year-old chief nurse at Cumberland Hospital, when she was dragged off a bus in Georgia and beaten by police. The court ruled in favor of Mrs. Ephraim and ordered Safeway to pay her $5,000 damages.

A native of the West Indies, Mrs. Ephraim bought a round-trip ticket from Safeway for a business trip to Montgomery, Ala., in August, 1959. At a bus stop in Georgia, she was ordered to move from the middle to the back of the bus to make room for a white woman and her children. She refused, and the police dragged her off the bus at the next stop, clubbing her into unconsciousness. She sustained a cerebral concussion, cuts and bruises on her legs, and a deep cut on her forehead which has left a permanent scar.

Pressure keeps Wallace out of Ga.

ATLANTA (ANP)—Pressure from Gov. Carl Sanders and the Atlanta branch of the NAACP prevented Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace from coming here Tuesday, June 2, to address a breakfast meeting of Georgia legislators.

A group of state legislators had invited Wallace to address the breakfast meeting, and Wallace appeared ready to come to Atlanta and use the opportunity to extend his campaign against the civil rights bill, when Gov. Sanders interceded.

Negroes Denounce Jewish crime patrons

NEW YORK (ANP)—The Bedford-Stuyvesant Business and Professional Men's Club, a predominantly Negro group, passed a resolution late last week strongly denouncing private radio car patrols of the Hasidic Jews in the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn as "vigilantes."

The Hasidic, an ultra-orthodox sect whose members are conspicuous by the long black coats and beards of the men, instituted the patrols, they say, as a deterrent to crime. There have been reported assaults on members of the sect, including the knifing and attempted rape of a rabbi's wife. The Hasidic called the patrols "crime spotters."

However, Negro leaders had generally denounced the patrols as unnecessary "vigilantes."

New Orleans slates desegregation plan

NEW ORLEANS (ANP)—A plan for conducting kindergarten registration for the 1964-65 school term without racial discrimination has been approved by the Orleans Parish school board, it was disclosed here last week. The plan does not include assignment to any specific school, and complies with a federal district court ruling. Any child five years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1964, may register at any school he chooses. The federal court has set Aug. 10 for hearing on actual desegregation of kindergarten classes.

6 Harlem youths indicted for murder

NEW YORK (ANP)—A grand jury panel, probing the April 29 knife murder of Mrs. Margit Sugar, 45-year-old white operator of a second-hand clothing store, returned true bills against six youths here last week charging first degree murder.

In addition, the six were indicted on charges of attempted first-degree murder in the stabbing of the woman's 50-year-old husband, Frank, and attempted robbery.
